Let There Be Light

August 2008 Update

First Stop in 5 City International Christian Art Tour Draws Thousands of Visitors!

Orange, CA – By God’s kind favor and provision the opening of the Let There Be Light Show, featuring 23 pieces of world acclaimed artist and author Ron DiCianni’s work, opened this past Spring to a huge reception in Los Angeles. The first month drew tens of thousands of visitors through the three level “Welcome Center” of the Crystal Cathedral in Orange, California.

This exhibition of Ron DiCianni’s work was announced in our February 2008 press release and will run for a 24 month period in five principal venues, The first of which was The Crystal Cathedral in Orange, CA, followed by Seattle, WA (Fall 2008), Dallas, TX (Winter 2009), Paris, France (Summer 2009) and New York, NY (Fall 2009). This five city exhibition features over a 100 different Christian Art pieces including original oil paintings, sculpture and Giclee reproductions of some of the most powerful and famous contemporary Christian Art ever produced.

After viewing the exhibition Tapestry Productions President Grant DiCianni commented that “it was a wonderful exhibition of some of the finest Christian Art pieces. We are excited to have all of Tapestry’s incredible artist’s represented in the show and the Crystal Cathedral was an incredible host... they genuinely put their heart into both the mission and execution of this exhibit while it was at their venue and it really showed. My sincerest compliments to them!”

Tapestry Productions has also been selected as the official print maker for the show and is pleased to have been selected as the official outlet both for the Fine Art Reproductions featured in the show as well as for the reproductions made available to visitors for purchase to reinforce the show’s theme and message.

Featured in the show are, among others, some of Ron DiCianni’s best loved pieces such as: In the Garden (pictured above), In the Wilderness, Spiritual Warfare and The Prodigal. However, the show also includes several pieces making their debut presentation, including He Could Have Called 10,000 Angels and The Judging of Jesus. A total of 18 original paintings plus 5 specially created Giclees showcase Ron DiCianni’s powerful work. Also featured are The Embrace and Holding Heaven by another of Tapestry’s incredible artists, Chris Hopkins in addition to pieces from Thomas Blackshear and Michael Dudash.
